

Setting the scene
for innovation

SPARKS

In our constantly
evolving world,
meeting as we know
it has changed.

The meeting standards and infrastructures we used years ago no longer work for modern organizations' needs.

01

---

As companies have made way for greater employee autonomy, agility and collective intelligence, new ways of meeting and collaborating have emerged.

02

---

Recent events are forcing companies to reshape their workspace and workforce structure. Increasingly, the new normal is hybrid and flexible work.
